You are aware, I have been involved in various business activities for the last 31 (Thirty one) years, but my involvement with BIFC has created sense of belongingness and bondage with the company. BIFC is an institution with potential for growth. The management of BIFC is professionally sound, which gives them the edge to face the competitive financial market. This is evident from the results achieved by the company despite adverse market situation and political unrest that prevailed during the year 2014.
